What is this product?

Type

You invest into a debt obligation of the category Investment Product (Structured Note).

Objectives

The aim is to benefit from rising prices of the underlying. The product has a fixed maturity. The redemption will depend on the average performance of the underlying. No interest will be paid during the term.

Redemption at maturity will be 100% of the principal amount plus the performance of the underlying multiplied by the participation rate. Performance means the average percentage change in the price of the underlying compared to the strike price. Independent of the performance of the underlying, a minimum amount will be paid, which is equivalent to the minimum redemption rate multiplied by the principal amount. The redemption amount is capped at the maximum amount, which is equivalent to the maximum redemption rate multiplied by the principal amount.

The issuer is entitled to terminate the product with immediate effect, if an extraordinary event occurs. Examples of extraordinary events include the delisting or loss of the underlying, changes in legislation, tax events and the discontinuation of the issuer's ability to carry out the necessary hedging transactions. In this case, the redemption amount (fair market price) may possibly be significantly below the purchase price. You also bear the risk that the product will be called in at a time unfavourable to you, and you may only be able to reinvest the redemption amount on less favourable terms.

What are the risks and what could I get in return?

Risk Indicator

The summary risk indicator is a guide to the level of risk of this product compared to other products. It shows how likely it is that the product will lose money because of movements in the markets or because we are not able to pay you.

We have classified this product as 1 out of 7, which is the lowest risk class.

This rates the potential losses from future performance at a very low level, and poor market conditions are very unlikely to impact our capacity to pay you.

You are entitled to receive back at least 95% of your capital. Any amount over this, and any additional return, depends on future market performance and is uncertain.

However, this protection against future market performance will not apply if you cash-in before maturity.

If we are not able to pay you what is owed, you could lose your entire investment.

The scenarios presented are an estimate of future performance based on evidence from the past on how the value of this investment varies, and are not an exact indicator. What you get will vary depending on how the market performs and how long you keep the product. The stress scenario shows what you might get back in extreme market circumstances, and it does not take into account the situation where we are not able to pay you.

The figures shown include all the costs of the product itself, but may not include all the costs that you pay to your advisor or distributor. The figures do not take into account your personal tax situation, which may also affect how much you get back.
