What is this product?

Type

You invest into a debt obligation of the category Investment Product (Bonus Certificate).

Objectives

The aim of this product is to provide you in case of constant or slightly falling prices of the underlying with the possibility of receiving an enhanced return ("bonus"). To achieve this, you take the risk of losing part or all of your invested capital on the basis of the previously determined conditions. The product has a fixed maturity. The redemption will depend on the performance of the underlying. Apart from any payouts provided for in the product terms and conditions, there is no entitlement to other current return (e.g. dividends from the underlying instrument).

If the price of the underlying remains above the barrier at all times, redemption at maturity will not be less than the bonus amount, which is equivalent to the bonus level multiplied by the multiplier. The redemption is capped at the maximum redemption amount, which is equivalent to the cap multiplied by the multiplier. If the closing price of the underlying is above the bonus level at the end of the term, the product will be redeemed at the maximum redemption amount at maturity.

If the price of the underlying reaches or falls below the barrier during the term, there will be no bonus payment. The redemption amount at maturity will be equivalent to the closing price of the underlying multiplied by the multiplier and is capped by the maximum redemption amount.

The issuer is entitled to terminate the product with immediate effect, if an extraordinary event occurs. Examples of extraordinary events include the delisting or loss of the underlying, changes in legislation, tax events and the discontinuation of the issuer's ability to carry out the necessary hedging transactions. In this case, the redemption amount (fair market price) may possibly be significantly below the purchase price. ## What are the risks and what could I get in return?

Risk Indicator

The summary risk indicator is a guide to the level of risk of this product compared to other products. It shows how likely it is that the product will lose money because of movements in the markets or because we are not able to pay you.

We have classified this product as 4 out of 7, which is a medium risk class.

This rates the potential losses from future performance at a medium level, and poor market conditions are very unlikely to impact our capacity to pay you.

This product does not include any protection from future market performance so you could lose some or all of your investment.

If we are not able to pay you what is owed, you could lose your entire investment.

If the recommended holding period is less than one year, the scenarios show the percentage return over the recommended holding period. Therefore, the comparability might be limited.

The scenarios presented are an estimate of future performance based on evidence from the past on how the value of this investment varies, and are not an exact indicator. What you get will vary depending on how the market performs and how long you keep the product.

The stress scenario shows what you might get back in extreme market circumstances, and it does not take into account the situation where we are not able to pay you.

The figures shown include all the costs of the product itself, but may not include all the costs that you pay to your advisor or distributor. The figures do not take into account your personal tax situation, which may also affect how much you get back.
